Moral Responsibility
Interdisciplinary workshop

LMU Munich

Main Building, Room F107

16–17 December 2019

moral-psychology.eu

16 December

9 am	Monika Betzler (LMU): Inverse akrasia: a case for reasoning about one's emotions Chair: Lieke Asma (Munich School of Philosophy)
10.30 am	Cory Clark (Durham): Blame motives and human moral responsibility Chair: Federico Brandmayr (Cambridge)
12.30-13.30 pm	Lunch served
2 pm	Joshua Shepherd (Carleton & Barcelona): Skill and the praiseworthy Chair: Stephan Sellmaier (LMU)
3.30 pm	Mario Gollwitzer (LMU): Revenge, justice, and morality Chair: Federica Berdini (LMU)
5 pm	Coffee break
5.30 pm	Anna Wehofsits (LMU): Self-deception, wronging and responsibility Chair: Sander Beckers (LMU)
7 pm	Reception

17 December

9 am	Richard Holton (Cambridge): Taking and sharing responsibility: the case of medical decision making Chair: Susanne Schlee (LMU)
10.30 am	Frederike Beyer (Queen Mary): Social contexts, voluntary action, and the sense of control Chair: Anita Keshmirian (LMU)
12.30- 13.30 pm	Lunch break
2 pm	Mario De Caro (Roma Tre & Tufts): Responsibility, punishment, and scapegoating Chair: Fiorella Battaglia (LMU)
3.30 pm	Maria Mammen (LMU): The two normative worlds of childhood – How preschoolers reason about morality in the context of parent-child and peer interactions Chair: Riana Betzler (Cambridge)
5 pm	Coffee break
5.30 pm	Gregg Caruso (SUNY): Moral responsibility skepticism and its implications for legal punishment and criminal justice Chair: Sofia Bonicalzi (LMU)